HOW DO YOU TREAT OLDER PATIENTS?

What if they can not tolerate treatment easily?

I once read a study that showed when MD's were ask their rule for deciding when someone was obese, it was always at least 2 to 3 lbs heavier than the doctor, no matter how heavy they were.

We have been getting many questions on older people and I am assuming those are people older than I. The questions have been on treatment protocol and complications seen in rendering proper treatment, along with the patient's ability to tolerate treatment and respond favorably.

So let's start out with the age of 70's, 80's and above. Let's consider what generalities we can assume and look secondarily to specifics. As we age our digestion gets weaker, our immune system becomes compromised, which may be under active or up regulated. Our hormones diminish and our energy gets less plentiful.

So number one is adding Total Enzymes to aid digestion, assimilation and elimination.

Number two is adding Total Probiotics to replenish proper bowel flora and help reduce the toxic load from the bowel; which contains sixty per cent of our immune system.

Number three is to for Total Female/Male, Total GHR or Total Thyroid to help balance the life giving and youth protecting hormones. These also have much to do with our mental state, aging in general and our memory.

Number four is test for Total Mitochondria, which will help energy, immune function and pain complexes. We test a strong muscle repeatedly to make sure it will stay strong with ten rapid muscle tests. If it weakens give Total Mitochondria, at least one three times per day.

Number five is to test for possible nutritional support to aide the immune system e.g. Virex, Total Multimune, Total Yeast, Total Bac-t or Total Para. If they have a condition where the immune system might be up regulated, such as MS, lupus, RA etc consider testing for Total CMO.

Number six is to do a Total Person Scan, blood tests, Labrix saliva testing, hair analysis or other testing to determine which organs or systems are under stress and add appropriate N-W nutrition, emotional testing and treatment.

Now add structural evaluation and correction with the Ajustor, Percussor, EB foot bath and Laser. Since these are low force corrections, you have a real safety margin to be thankful for in all ages and especially the older individuals.

Older people develop allergies more easily and the A/SERT protocol is a life saver here for you and the patient. Some older people have trouble taking nutrition due to allergies and digestive complaints. That is why you start them out with Total Enzymes and Probiotics. The multipolar magnet is important to help balance their energy and protect them from electromagnetic pollution.

If a patient is having a problem with a specific nutrition, take them off temporarily, while you do A/SERT and reprogram them to tolerate good nutrition, including the N-W supplements that tested positive. In severe cases with pan allergic reactions, laser the nutrition over the thymus for a week or so until they can tolerate it by mouth. We will sell the patient the LED light from our seminar office or an Erchonia Laser, in sever allergic reactors, so they can laser or LED their supplements three or more times per day over their thymus.

We have had some questions on older patient's eyes, with failing vision or specific diagnosed conditions. We test each patient for Total Eyebright C or M. We give the one that tests the best. In the rare case they do not respond or have a reaction, do the A/SERT technique and/or (if possible) laser the nutrient over the thymus several times per day, while you suspend them from taking the nutrient temporarily.

Now for specific conditions, look at the possible causes and effects. For blood pressure or heart conditions, test the heart reflex and for homocysteine. For degenerative conditions and cancer consider the literature that calls for vegetables and their protective nutrients. Nutri-West has Total Veggie, Total Greens and Total Protect.

Much of the literature suggests many conditions are triggered by inflammation. Test the sources of toxic burden and use the appropriate nutrition, form Total Lead, T. Mercury etc to Total Chelate. Consider foot baths and possible infra red saunas along with Total Inflam.

Emotions play a role in almost all conditions. Use the Violet laser scan we have developed and the other many emotional techniques we teach in our seminars to gain balance. Consider couples integration.

You can see that one glove does not fit all. Yet we have a system of finding out quickly which glove might fit each patient and each circumstance and give the success you seek through the Brimhall Protocol.

I can not answer each question, from each practitioner, about each patient individually, but this article gives an answer for almost all of them. There is not a whole in one, but there is a system to evaluate all possible Six Interferences™ and treat with the Six Steps To Wellness™.
